Information Matters Launches!

We are finally going full-scale, we are stepping in the spotlight, we are launching. That’s right. After several months and several dozen authors and articles, we are ready to take it to the next level. With the ASIS&T Annual Meeting in Salt Lake City this weekend, we are officially launching IM. If you are attending the meeting in person or online, please join us during the Welcome Reception on Sunday, Oct. 31st or during the Business Meeting lunch on Monday, Nov. 1st to hear more.

With the official launch, we are also announcing our new editorial board, comprising of leaders and scholars from various parts of the world. Interested in joining the board or find some other leadership position with IM? Send us a note at editor@informationmatters.org.

Finally, we are ready for your contributions. Browse our site, see what kind of things we publish, and then head over to contribute.

Don’t forget to connect with us through Twitter, Facebook, and LinkedIn.
